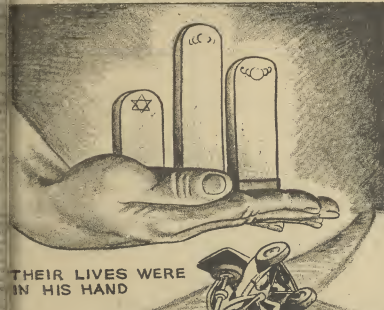
VOICE OF THE BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY

S. A. S.

Thursday, Dec. 6, 1956

Provo, Utah



THAT DRIVER IS THE ONE

GOING HOME for Christmas, Mr. Student? "Sure I am," you say?

Well, then, Mr. Student, are you planning to leave home this Christmas?

Again, you say you are.

How many passengers do you plan to take with you?

Three, and still looking for another rider, you?

Well, Mr. Student Driver, have you ever thought what you may be letting this fourth passenger in for?

ARE YOU going to give your riders an ulcer or a breakup?

Highway travel these days is a risky business and drivers should be aware of the implications of assuming the responsibilities of transporting passengers to their homes from BYU.

In addition to legal responsibilities faced in the event of accident, the student driver has a moral responsibility of driving safely and only in order to deliver these passengers to their homes and parents, and back again to school.

ccessful Tour To Southland . . .

Tour Show To Present Thursday Assembly

RETURNING FROM a successful tour of Arizona and New Mexico, the Student Program Bureau show, "Happy Holidays," will be presented for the Brigham Young University student body Thursday during the assembly.

"Happy Holiday," the opening number, will be by the entire cast. This number was arranged by Crawford Gates.

Other numbers will be presented from the touring show. NEW YEAR'S will be performed by the 19-piece Y's Men band under the direction of Richard Ballou.

Several numbers will be sung by a group of 20 voices from the Men's Chorus and the "Aristaires" under the direction of Prof Norman Gulbrandsen.

Music from "Carousel" will be used to portray spring. The chorus and band will join together for this number.

BRIGHAMETTES will dance to the Fourth of July music and "I Could Have Danced All Night." The Jubileers will portray summer.

The "Back to School" feature will be given by Roy Baumgart, ventriloquist. Thanksgiving's theme is a serious number by the chorus.

The entire cast will join together to present the Christmas finale. Crawford Gates also arranged this number.

JANE THOMPSON directed the variety numbers of the show.

The show was first presented Nov. 20 to the Cyprus High School. On Nov. 23 it began its tour of Arizona and New Mexico. It went from there to Farmington and Gallup, N. Mex., Holbrook, Safford, Bisbee, Mesa, Phoenix, and Prescott, Ariz. The group returned to Provo Sunday evening.

During the tour the programs were sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Hungarian Student Aid Drive In Full Swing As Revolt Erupts Anew

by Barbara Miller

AS RUMOR of more Hungarian riots flare, the movement on the Brigham Young University campus to bring Hungarian students to BYU continues to grow.

Those valiant fighters who continue to resist the most awesome Soviet war machinery need the sympathy and assistance of the free world. BYU's Hungarian Student Committee is attempting to help at least two of these "Freedom Fighters."

The crusade, underway for a week, has been a growing movement to collect money for transportation, tuition, room and board and books for Hungarian students who the ISC is trying to bring to BYU to continue their education.

AFTER FLEEING the home land they had fought to free, these young victims of Communist tyranny are waiting in Austrian refugee camps for a helping hand to guide the way to a new life.

At BYU organizations and individuals have been doing their share to aid two of the student rebels. Monetary donations have been coming in to the Daily Universe office from various sources.

TWO SOCIAL units, Athenians and Val Norn, contributed checks that will be an important block in the new lives being built. Athenians contributed $38 and Val Norn wrote a check for $46.

Contributions from a student and Warnick Co-op House bring Wednesday contributions to $61. However, much more is needed to make this humanitarian effort a success.

The funds given by students and organizations of BYU and Provo must reach from the campus to a refugee camp in Austria and this distance can be bridged only by the wholehearted spirit of every student and citizen.

DUE TO THE disclosure by an airline contacted about transportation that special rates would be impossible, transportation is planned to be handled in one of two ways.

Under a special immigration rate the students could be flown from Vienna to Provo for $275-18 each.

If they could be flown to the U. S. under the refugee entry plan by the Air Force, this expense would be lessened. Plane fare from New York to Provo would be $141.18 per person.

Every donation that comes to the ISC is an expression of the Christmas spirit prevalent at this season.

Budget Asked For Bureau's Touring Shows

by Richard Kramer
Daily Universe Writer

A $2,080 budget, to be used by the Student Program Bureau, was recommended by the Student Senate Wednesday morning.

This appropriation will now have to be viewed and discussed by the budget committee before it can be put into effect.

In the past SPB, which is directly under the offices of public service, expenses have been paid by the individual participants and by personal contributions. The cost of transportation only was paid by the public service office.

According to Don Kenney, freshman Senator, this budget will be used during winter and spring quarters.

THE PUBLIC service office will contribute half of the $2,080 budget and the Associated Students of Brigham Young University will also contribute half, Kenney said.

THE ASBYU will receive their half from a special reserve used for such appropriations as this. The Executive Council and SPB have already given their approval.

Kenney also said that the bureau had gone several hundred dollars in the red in previous years and would probably have gone farther in debt if participants had not covered their own expenses.

ALSO AT this early morning session the Senate approved a bill organizing a student participation committee which will strive to classify the interests of BYU students. They will receive information from the student activity interest cards filled out during registration.

The Senate also voted to allocate $50 from last year's Campus Chest Fund Drive surplus to the Hungarian Students Committee.

Students Reminded To Pre-Register

There are only 7 days left for students to file pre-registration with the registrar's office.

Nearly 3,000 students have pre-registered, according to the registrar's office.

With more than 9,000 students registered at Brigham Young University this quarter, there is a rush of pre-registration toward the end of the quarter. Students are advised by Dean of Admissions Bliss Crandall to complete pre-registration as early as possible.

Students will not be allowed to register for winter quarter without having first pre-registered with their dean or counselor and received a registration permit from the registrar's office.

Les Brown Band To Play At Stake Dance

Les Brown and his "Band of Renown" will play at the Pasadena Stake House, Dec. 27.

"Snow Ball" is the theme of the semi-formal Christmas dance sponsored by five Southern California stakes of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. They are the Covina, Pasadena, East Los Angeles, San Bernardino, and Mt. Rubidoux Stakes.

All Brigham Young University students, who will be in the vicinity during the Christmas vacation are invited to attend according to Ruth Jensen, secretary of the Covina M-Men and Gleaner, and Jr. M-Men and Jr. Gleaner Council.

Wye Distribution Scheduled Friday

A Wye Magazine, sporting new ideas in color, design and content, will be distributed to the studentbody Friday.

Joan Dunn, Wye editor, said students may pick up the magazine in the Eyring Science Center, McKay Building and Smith Building.

Miss Dunn reminds students that the Christmas holidays will be an ideal time to work on material to submit for the winter issue.

Manuscripts submitted for the fall issue can be picked up in 147 Student Service Center or the editors will return them by mail.

Band Uniforms Are Due

Members of the Brigham Young University Cougar Marching Band were reminded they must turn in their uniforms.

Suits are to be brought to the Social Hall from 2 to 6 p.m. on Tuesday through Friday and from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Saturday

According to Floyd Murphy, band spokesman, grades will be withheld until uniforms are returned

Grades Sent By Mail

Registrar's office has announced that students who would like their fall quarter grades mailed to their homes on Dec. 26 may leave self-addressed envelopes with the registrar before leaving for Christmas vacation.

Parking Permits Readied

Parking permits are now available in the Security Office.

The permits will cost $4 until August 31, 1957. Those who wish to purchase a permit may pay the fee at the Treasurer's office and pick up the permit in the Security Office between 8 a.m and 5 p.m

New Style Officiating, Olympics, Trophy Winner In Sports News

by International News Service

THE NEW officiating principle in Big Ten basketball games entailed "no harm, no foul" has cut down on the number of expulsions in the first 12 games involving Western Conference teams.

Only seven players were asked to leave the floor for misduct unbecoming gentlemen in the dozen games, the 12th of which was played last night between Indiana and Valparaiso. The Bloomington, Ind., five won the game, 64 to 57. In that contest, only two players, both from Indiana, departed for running up five fouls.

THE IDEA that too much whistle squealing has a harmful effect on the game—both prolonging them and needlessly increasing the score because of the vast number of free throws they entail—is on in other parts of the country.

Big Ten coaches agreed this such as a slap on the wrist in the backcourt, can be ignored without harming the game. But they, of course, will continue to condone outright mayhem on the court. Here's how the Western Conference feels:

THE PRINCIPLE (no harm, no foul) is intended to cut down on the number of free throws by eliminating officials' calls on incidental fouls for minor contact situations, where control of the ball is 'not affected'.

Big Ten publicity directors have charged that the National Collegiate Athletic Association exercises a "monopolistic control of football television."

THEY WANT the practice changed and passed a resolution yesterday at the week-long Western Conference meetings in Chicago calling for re-opening the entire matter at the NCAA Convention in St. Louis next month.

The publicity men, who want the re-establishment of TV control on the basis of the 1951 ruling, would like the NCAA to designate only a fair limitation upon the number of appearances which any member may make on TV, whether it's on a local, regional or national basis.

QUARTERBACK Paul Hornung, the stellar star of the worst Notre Dump team in his story, Dooley, he was being fed when he was told that he won the Heisman trophy.

Hornung won the annual award to college football's outstanding player by a narrow margin over Johnny Majors of Tennessee and Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma.

HORNUNG received 1,066 votes in Major's 904 and McDonald's 873. Finishing behind the leading three were Jerry Tubbs of Oklahoma, Jim Brown of Syracuse, Ron Kramer of Michigan, John Brodie of Stanford, Jim Parker of Ohio State, Ken Pfohl of Iowa and Jon Arnett of Southern California.

America's sailors and shapely swimmers raced through Australia's waters today to save the U. S. head in unofficial Olympic team standings.

Michigan State Hosts Cougars In Second Game On Road Trip

by Jerry Cunningham

BRIGHAM Young University's swash-buckling Cougars take their insatiable basketball appetite to East Lansing, Mich., Saturday for the second course of an away-from-home banquet which also features Iowa State and UCLA.

The Cats' cassbis feast begins Thursday with a clash against the powerful Cyclones of Iowa State, with the Michigan State Spartans providing another sumptuous dish on Saturday while Cougar fans wait to see if "the eyes are bigger than the stomach."

IOWA STATE is a strong contender for the basketball-minded Big Seven, the Cyclones having whipped Michigan State, 76-6 on the Spartans' home floor and ruined Hoosier 92-73 in Angie Gary Thompson, all-America candidate for the Cyclones pumped in 35 points against the Texans, 19 from the foul line.

The Spartans breezed through a so-so season last year, winding up with a 13-9 record, good for fifth place in the potent Big Ten.

BASKETBALL authorities in the Midwest rate Michigan State third behind Illinois and Indiana in the nation's strongest conference.

Although the Spartans lose three fine regulars via graduation, Coach Forddy Anderson is enthusiastic over his seven returning letterman.

Larry Hedden, 6-5 forward last year scored 172 points Hedden, despite his height, is very fast and boasts a good shooting eye, especially from outside.

HEDDEN'S forward counterpart is 6-3 George Gerguson, a outstanding rebounder and defensive man who scored 10 points last year

Veteran Chuck Vernicle, 6-5, will be the starting center. he is expected to be pressed by 6-Max Geczenbeck, a hook shot artist who was sidelined last year by an injured ankle.

The guards are also letter men Jack Quiggle, 6-3, is the team's playmaker, his forte being defense. Sin-footed Pat Wilson is Quiggle's partner a guard.

A GOOD crop of sophomore will help bolster the team another 6 depth, the lack of which hurt the Spartans last year.

Cougar Coach Stan Watts reports that his team is in fin shape, mentally and physically after their close loss to Oregon and the super performance over the Huskies of Washington

Iowa State, meanwhile than they have been in many years. may be the toughest competition Cougars will face in their pre-league schedule.

STOPPING the Cyclones depends on the Cougars' ability t hold down 5-10 Gary Thompson, a little scoring machine who has netted 778 points in just two seasons with Iowa State.

In addition, the Cyclones have height to burn. John Crawford Chuck Vogt and Don Medsker are 6-5, 6-6 and 6-8, respectively.
